Bar code application forms

Alberta Immigrant Nominee Program (AINP) forms are electronic forms in PDF format which can be completed by typing in the information and printing it for submission. Completing the information electronically is faster, easier and reduces errors on your application. Errors slow down the application process. You can also choose to print the blank forms and complete them by hand. It is highly recommended that you complete the form electronically.

You will need at least Adobe Reader 8.1 to fill out the applications, if you do not have Adobe Reader 8.1, click on the icon below to download the program for free.

Some AINP application forms will have bar codes that are created when you complete the form. A bar code is a small label of lines representing data that can be read by a computer. Be sure to include the bar code page with your application. The bar code will appear on the last page of your application form.

Which AINP forms have a bar code to send in with your application?	AINP 003 AINP 005 AINP 001 AINP 009B
Document Checklist	Each AINP stream/category has its own "Document Checklist" listing all the required documents you must include with your application form for a complete AINP application. Please ensure you print the correct "Document Checklist" for the stream/category you are applying to and check off all the items you are including. Applications will be returned if the documents listed are not included with your application.

Important Note:

When submitting your application to the AINP make sure your identification number is the same on all pages, including the bar code page. The identification number is on the bottom right hand side of each application page. Your application will be returned to you if any of the identification numbers are different. To be sure all identification numbers at the bottom of each application page are the same you must print all pages of the application at one time, including the bar code page. If you need to make changes to any of the pages, do so, then SAVE and PRINT the entire application again.

Identification Number

If your AINP application has a bar code it will also have an identification number on each page on the bottom right hand side, next to the page number. Make sure all identification numbers at the bottom of each application page match. You must print all pages of the application at one time. If you need to make changes, do so, then SAVE and PRINT the entire application again. Your bar code will appear on the last page after you print the application using "Print Final".

Important Note:

These numbers must be identical on all pages of your application. This can only be done by saving and printing the entire application. Do not submit application pages that were printed at different times.
